A ROSE IN WINTER

Written and directed by Joshua Sinclair, with the cinematography of Academy Award winner Vittorio Storaro, the movie tells the true story of Edith Stein, a German Jewish philosopher and feminist who converted to Christianity and became a nun, dying in Auschwitz. In 1998, Edith Stein was canonised becoming St. Teresa Benedicta a Cruce, saint and martyr, Patron of Europe.

Be inspired by her extraordinary, courageous path for survival, her strong advocacy for feminism and her search for peace.

Edith Stein's legacy is today more relevant than ever. Through her story we can learn from the past in order to build peace for the future.
